Consumers of Ink.

The undersigned begs to inform the highly respected community of this city and the country, that he has established an

INK MANUFACTORY.

No. 50, Calle 25 de Mayo,

And is prepared to sell as good Ink as any made in any part of the globe and warranted to retain its beautiful jet black color which it has at the moment when used, at 50 p.% less than the same can be bought at any other house.

People under the impression, that they pay their 320 mpc for a good bottle of English Ink, can have the same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imposed upon the public as such. But I am ashamed to put my own Name on the Label, being fully convinced that my Ink is of a much superior quality, and possesses more virtues than most of the Inks.

I.—It is of a very rich black at the moment when used.

II.—Retain its color.

III.—Runs freely off the pen.

IV.—A preserver of the eyes to those, who have much to write at night because they need not so force their eyesight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope my numerous friends will take especial notice against Home Manufacture will be laid aside, and all I ask is, to try the same which will be a benefit to the buyer, and the country, in assisting Home Industry.

N. B. Orders left at the office will be punctually attended to and delivered free of any charges.

REMARKABLE HORSE-SUIT.

On Friday last in the Irish resident of Capilla señor charged a livery-stable keeper of Villa Luxan with starving his horse under the following circumstances. It appears the plaintiff came to spend a few days in the village, and gave his steed in care of defendant who agreed to maintain him at the rate of 10 $ per diem. The merits of this charger may be understood from the owner's statement that he could travel 150 leguas a week at a gallop. We are not told that he was entered at the coming races of Capilla Señor, but much difference of opinion evidently prevailed as to his intrinsic value. Defendant tried the well-known French method, and while the owner was cavorting with his friends, his faithful steed was pining away.

At length our countryman, after 10 days reception, during which time he had forgotten to visit his travelling companion, repaired to the stable, and was presented with a bill for 100 $, which he paid. He was then informed that his horse was dead, but could find no trace of him dead or alive: he summoned defendant to the fuzgado, where an interesting scene ensued. The judge tried to interpose, but the evidence was conflicting, plaintiff bewailing the loss of his horse and defendant obstinately adducing the grave the animal nothing to eat as the owner has paid nothing for his support.

Witnesses were then called to prove the value of the deceased quadruped, and here again some discrepancy occurred, the owner thinking him worth $ 1,000, while an Irish friend of his stately asserted the horse should fetch at least $ 5,000. At this the Judge put on his hat, saying "this animal is beyond my jurisdiction, for I can only go as far as 4,000." It is, nevertheless, surprising that the judge did not order the $ 100 to be returned to the Irishman, in default of life, horse; or that defendant was not obliged to produce the hide.

The Irish witness proved too much, and it is to be regretted that the owner's valuation was not referred to, as he is now obliged to bring the case before the judge of 1st instancia.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The message of the President is before the public—nothing can be clearer more distinct or emphatic We will publish it in English, by degrees, in the "Standard" and in a pamphlet form in time for transmission by the French mail.

We call Mr Caton's particular attention to the proposed Fire Brigade, and the sound practical hints contained in "advance" letter: we trust our colleagues will publish it in Spanish, it would be much more interesting than some of the trash which they are frequently obliged to put in to fill up the overgrown columns. President Mitre, whom we regard as a practical man, will attach importance to the suggestion touching the conservators if brought under his notice. Something must be done to have water at hand when a fire occurs, else, no one can answer for the consequences. Col. Rodriguez talks about an "engine" is good, but somehow, we have too much of the military already, and would get on better if they were all sent to the frontier and an efficient police force established.

On the face of the globe there is no more unsociable spot than Buenos Ayres not only our public hall but even the very house of God is at times surrounded by a lot of these soldiers under the pretence of keeping order. It may be heard how necessary precautions were necessary in former years, but they are most objectionable, anti-republican, and unnecessary now.

Great complaints are made about the Gas. It is asserted by many that one of Mr Covett's Kerosene lamps will give more light than two gas burners whether it is from the quantity of the coal or the state of the pipes one cannot say, but certainly, the fact is stated. It is consequently remarkably dull. We beg to call the attention of our scientific friend Mr Simpson to the matter.

The Rosario and Villa Marsfield purposes turning our Custom-house upside-down, and that our friends the clerks, will find a difficulty to come on board. Of course, we cannot tell, but we, one of the first things will be to reduce the export tax on wool and hides. Something must be done to relieve the trade at this institution are so numerous, that we have long since given up custom house reform as an utter impossibility. The miseries of an ex clerk, the ministry of a word, the improper punctuation of a sentence, in a bill of lading, invoice &c, often costs our victimized merchants hundreds of pesos and thousands dollars. It is time that we have done with this Aduana despotism. No better time than the present, and if our industrious fellow countryman, could be selected to lay the axe at the, root, and work out with an iron hand stringent custom-house reforms and tariff improvements.

The fines p id in at the Policia daily, are attracting general attention; where they go to and what becomes of them we should like to know. It is a perfect monstrosity to be collecting such sums from the lower classes without muzzles still pay 850: verily we do believe, that the dogs of Buenos Ayres yield a greater income to the State than the landed property of the district, but in winter time dogs don't require "bozales," so we would suggest that a new regulation be introduced. Every dog caught without a pair of shoes, fine the owner 100 $ daily. Horses have shoes, why not dogs also, besides it will for ever settle the vexed question as to whether the tinkling of the cow's bell decrease the value of hides and give liner returns. We call upon the Chief to abolish the bond fine as it is only necessary in summer.

Yesterday there was a crowd round the Bank about 1 o'clock. Some received specie from the counter and ran off with the "Standard," that nearly 3 millions of money would be burnt at that hour. Believing it a subject of public interest we went for themselves: what was their surprise when they saw the blue five thousand dollars pitched into the fire like bits of rag. We are told by a gentleman, says a friend of ours from Connaught, the chap is burning the money in earnest. If this ain't the richest country that ever was known or heard of, talk of Australia or the States, why, they are nothing to this place; here the people are so rich that they have to burn the money, it is so plenty." Our friend left the place, thanking Heaven that he was so lucky to come to such a country. Confidence in the Sam Martin, thinking to himself, that in a few years he would be obliged to burn his money also.

Rosario there is no longer any doubt about the recall of the French Consul-General. Sor. Garcia has been mounted in his place. Poor Xavier has left a blue sleeve at the whole affair, and says he will write a few lines to Napoleon on the subject.

Messrs Saunders and Keyser are greatly blamed for not having the cotton gin working; but we think it right to say that they are looking out for a wheel, which they hope to find in a day or two.

A friend from Giles informs us that it has rained heavily in that direction the crops promise an all full, and the camps looking splendid. The rain was not cold, and no lambs were lost. Indeed the two leagues this side of the Villa Lunan it has scarcely rained a drop: the grass is very short, and water is badly watered.

The supper table at the Progreso ball, we are informed, was elegantly laid out—completely "a la Russe." The waiters were to wear a most delicious thing possible to look at; but to eat——

The wines were unequalled; but, according to report, most of the hams were very hard, being wooden.

We are happy to inform our friends that the Northern Railway will be opened for public traffic to Santos Olivo on the 20th or 25th of this month. The vessels which were so long expected have at last arrived at Buenos Ayres, are discharged, and the works are proceeding with the greatest rapidity. It affords the greatest satisfaction to note on the able administration of the company's affairs by Mr Zimmermann, who has succeeded in working an Argentine railway, of only a few miles extent, so economically, that not only is the Government freed from all responsibility as regards its guarantee, but a fund is being created which will enable the company to declare a handsome dividend to the stockholders, on the completion of the line to San Fernando.

Mr Bellinghausen is also opening Rosario, on business of importance concerning the Cordova Railway. He will return on Monday. We have not heard how the engineering question is getting on, but we understand that such precautions were necessary in former years, but they are most objectionable, anti-republican, and unnecessary now.

Great complaints are made about the Gas. It is asserted by many that one of Mr Covett's Kerosene lamps will give more light than two gas burners whether it is from the quantity of the coal or the state of the pipes one cannot say, but certainly, the fact is stated. It is consequently remarkably dull. We beg to call the attention of our scientific friend Mr Simpson to the matter.

The Rosario and Villa Marsfield purposes turning our Custom-house upside-down, and that our friends the clerks, will find a difficulty to come on board. Of course, we cannot tell, but we, one of the first things will be to reduce the export tax on wool and hides. Something must be done to relieve the trade at this institution are so numerous, that we have long since given up custom house reform as an utter impossibility. The miseries of an ex clerk, the ministry of a word, the improper punctuation of a sentence, in a bill of lading, invoice &c, often costs our victimized merchants hundreds of pesos and thousands dollars. It is time that we have done with this Aduana despotism. No better time than the present, and if our industrious fellow countryman, could be selected to lay the axe at the, root, and work out with an iron hand stringent custom-house reforms and tariff improvements.

The fines p id in at the Policia daily, are attracting general attention; where they go to and what becomes of them we should like to know. It is a perfect monstrosity to be collecting such sums from the lower classes without muzzles still pay 850: verily we do believe, that the dogs of Buenos Ayres yield a greater income to the State than the landed property of the district, but in winter time dogs don't require "bozales," so we would suggest that a new regulation be introduced. Every dog caught without a pair of shoes, fine the owner 100 $ daily. Horses have shoes, why not dogs also, besides it will for ever settle the vexed question as to whether the tinkling of the cow's bell decrease the value of hides and give liner returns. We call upon the Chief to abolish the bond fine as it is only necessary in summer.

Yesterday there was a crowd round the Bank about 1 o'clock. Some received specie from the counter and ran off with the "Standard," that nearly 3 millions of money would be burnt at that hour. Believing it a subject of public interest we went for themselves: what was their surprise when they saw the blue five thousand dollars pitched into the fire like bits of rag. We are told by a gentleman, says a friend of ours from Connaught, the chap is burning the money in earnest. If this ain't the richest country that ever was known or heard of, talk of Australia or the States, why, they are nothing to this place; here the people are so rich that they have to burn the money, it is so plenty." Our friend left the place, thanking Heaven that he was so lucky to come to such a country. EDITOR'S TABLE.

The message of the President is before the public—nothing can be clearer more distinct or emphatic We will publish it in English, by degrees, in the "Standard" and in a pamphlet form in time for transmission by the French mail.

We call Mr Caton's particular attention to the proposed Fire Brigade, and the sound practical hints contained in "advance" letter: we trust our colleagues will publish it in Spanish, it would be much more interesting than some of the trash which they are frequently obliged to put in to fill up the overgrown columns. President Mitre, whom we regard as a practical man, will attach importance to the suggestion touching the conservators if brought under his notice. Something must be done to have water at hand when a fire occurs, else, no one can answer for the consequences. Col. Rodriguez talks about an "engine" is good, but somehow, we have too much of the military already, and would get on better if they were all sent to the frontier and an efficient police force established.

On the face of the globe there is no more unsociable spot than Buenos Ayres not only our public hall but even the very house of God is at times surrounded by a lot of these soldiers under the pretence of keeping order. It may be heard how necessary precautions were necessary in former years, but they are most objectionable, anti-republican, and unnecessary now.

Great complaints are made about the Gas. It is asserted by many that one of Mr Covett's Kerosene lamps will give more light than two gas burners whether it is from the quantity of the coal or the state of the pipes one cannot say, but certainly, the fact is stated. It is consequently remarkably dull. We beg to call the attention of our scientific friend Mr Simpson to the matter.

The gentleman who has given us the foregoing items has considerable experience in cotton growing, and is a member of the present Congress

If the native papers would only pull with us in the cotton question 50 millions of paper dollars would not stay for the cotton crop of this republic next year. The members of Congress are quite at home in the "Standard" office; every day we are favoured with a visit from either Senator or Deputy, and sometimes not one, but half a dozen.

"The Standard" has shaken the entire Republic, and, even privately in a Province, Congress has been lodged to divest Argentine minds, from revolutions and politics, to cotton growing and cultivation. The numerous communications expression of thanks, which we constantly receive from the legislators of the interior, is a proof that we can give correct foreign readers of the great action which has taken place in these countries; even at the very foot of the Cordilleras our news is eagerly looked for. Banks are talked of, lands surveyed and Argentine industry is on the increase.

FLORES NEWS.

Yesterday we had no news from the Uruguay or Montevideo, where events are assuming a formidable character.

The last news is that a battle was imminent between the Argentine Generals Flores and Lamas, in the vicinity of Salto, which, like Montevideo, is a town easily defended, on account of its topography.

Gen. Diego Lamas, the present commander of Salto, is one of the best Buenos officers, and although serving in the bad school of Oribe, his name has come out of that ordeal a useful civil war untarnished by the acts of cold-blooded cruelty which were a characteristic of his fellow officers.

Now, the "crack" officers of both parties in Banda Oriental—Flores and Lamas—are face to face, and the issue is very doubtful.

Flores received an important accession of strength and prestige by the incorporation of Nicasio Borges, an Oriental officer and great favourite of Urquiza. Borges was one of the very few survivors of Quinteros from whence he escaped by a bold and rapid manœuvre.

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT TO CONGRESS

FELLOW-CITIZENS OF THE SENATE AND CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

In solemnly inaugurating your labors for the present year I must fulfil a duty imposed on me by the Constitution, which is to give you an account of the actual state of the Republic, the events which have come to pass during your recess, explaining to you moreover, my views respecting the measures and measures which I deem necessary to carry out with your assistance, in order to consolidate our institutions, foment the moral and material progress of the people, and render that peace both lasting and fruitful, which we have acquired at the cost of so many sacrifices.

You will readily comprehend that, while Government devoted all its efforts to the pacific organization, to bring about the regular order of things which now happily prevails, the task has encountered no small obstacles, possessing the short interval of office yet expired. After half a century of incessant strife, the Argentine Nation, for the first time called to form a compact organizati n in accordance with our fundamental constitution. It was treated with universal sympathy by almost every one with energy, so as to overcome every obstacle, and even turn the same into an instrument for popular advancement.

It was requisite to create, in a manner, an exchequer, by regulating the rents of the Nation, hitherto so neglected, and to complete a code, the want of every day life, while arranging the material and personal administration of a Government whose action was to be felt over all the uttermost limits of the Republic.

For these reasons, it has not been in our power, amid so many conflicting cares, and within so brief a period, to consecrate our undivided attention to the urgent and useful improvements demanded by the various localities, which however, all follow as the natural result of the order and tranquillity now firmly established among us. This Government, nevertheless has done its utmost in such a course of policy and what has been achieved may be regarded as the inauguration of a new era of progress for the Republic: this gradual development, under the favorable influences of liberty and national institutions, will soon be felt in the general balance, with time; and its rapid increase will attend the multiplication of the resources of the country.

Foreign Affairs.

One of the chief cares of Government has been to preserve peaceful and harmonic relations with all friendly powers. No difficulty or misunderstanding has occurred to interrupt the bonds of harmony or mar the loyalty and good faith which Government wishes to observe in its foreign relations, while extending in ample and efficacious protection to all foreigners resident in the Republic.

At the same time, it is indispensable to appoint several diplomatic agents, not only to avoid serious obstacles and questions of old standing, but also to place on a firmer footing the compact of trade and navigation already existing; it is further desirable to re imburse the republic for the outlay incurred by its co operation with other S. American States, during the War of Independence. Hitherto these diplomatic appointments have been over-looked, on account of more pressing cares in national organization; but it is now time to provide for important a matter, to which Government will shortly express its wishes, to the Senate.

It was no less urgent to name a Consular list for foreign countries; in doing so, Government consulted the fitness of those officials and the interests of the country, dictating a Consular code suitable to the times.

The Oriental republic of Uruguay continues on friendly terms with this country: that Government labors to cultivate such fraternal relations. Some private communication took place relative to the apprehension of an expedition from this side of the river; the Argentine Government replied by an assurance of strict neutrality, which is uniformly observed in the domestic questions of friendly states, more especially when they are neighbouring republics. There is a complaint of the same (Oriental) Government to the late cabinet of Paraná, which is still pending, relative to some stipulations and treaties. We feel a right to expect that this Government has received a manifest proof of friendship in the matter of the West. The Government has a right to claim to come to an understanding with his Imperial Majesty on several treaties not yet ratified, which mutually affect our interests. Possibly the Brazilian Government will give especial care.

Respecting the Empire of Brazil, our relations at present are amiable, nor is there room to fear a rupture between

No more Scab in Sheep.

The undersigned an old sheep farmer in the south of the province after many years of study in the pernicious infirmity of the scab, has at last discovered an infallible remedy against a sickness that in the body when it generally breaks out like a storm resisting all the remedies that to this time have been discovered.

This specific so simple in its application as great in its result, is preferable to all fumigatory ways, it is cheaper than tobacco, and free from poisonous substances contained in all other remedies before invented.

With only one smoke of my specific there is sufficient for the Scab of 900 or 1000 sheep, in the low parts of the Rio, it will facilitate all sheep farmers to preserve their sheep in a perfect state of healthiness; to make known this remedy and induce farmers to prove it, I have determined to sell small packages of one to at 8$ which I hold at every one's disposition who wants to prove its infallibility.

Instructions for its application will be given in the deposit of certificates of the scab.

Amber Teeth Setting.

156—Calle Cuyo—156

Lately E. Rouse sets teeth by a new intention, amber, which is found superior to every other mode. It accommodates itself to the gums and palate much better than gold, which requires springs. A set of teeth in amber, after two days, serves for mastication, speaking and lasts a life time.

My adoption of artificial teeth is very fine, and cannot be distinguished from a natural set. I will also clean teeth with great care.

I have a number of instrument for extracting roots of teeth, also for stuffing the same with gold, silver, &c., which I guarantee for a number of years.
